College Definitely Not To Move

Collegian Gets An 'Exclusive' On Navy Deal

Brothers Will Be Administrators; Athletics Continue

Gather around all ye Doubting Thomases and rumor mongers and be assured once and for all that Saint Mary's College will continue throughout the present war emergency.

Last Tuesday Saint Mary's celebrated Founder's Day and on this same day the college authorities were assured by Brother Austin, president of the College, that Saint Mary's would definitely continue as a collegaite institution.

In a letter written to the Collegian from Washington, D. C., Brother Austin revealed that the College would continue on the present site, that the Christian Brothers would continue to be sole administrators of the entire plant, and that the navy's sole function on the campus would be to train aviation cadets.

NEW BUILDINGS

A new dormitory for resident students will be erected on the high ground between the power house and Lake La Salle. The present classrooms will be used jointly by the College and the Navy and a similar agreement has been reached on the use of the dining hall facilities.

The present faculty quarters, which are attached to the administration building, will be reserved for the Brothers and the Scholastics. The faculty meeting room will be used as a temporary library, and the library will be transformed into an additional dining hall.

Barracks for 758 men will be erected at the foot of the hill behind the faculty quarters. All the present residence halls will be used exclusively by the navy.

ACTIVITIES CONTINUE

"All College activities will go on as much as possible. The educational program of the College certainly will not be curtailed and athletics will also continue," Brother Austin announced in his letter.

The contract between the Navy authorities and the College was signed on Tuesday afternoon, April 14, by Brother Jasper, representing Saint Mary's College Corporation, and Brother Austin, representing the present College administration.

EXPENDITURES LISTED

According to the figures released by the Twelfth Naval District, the Navy will expend $547,000 on new buildings and on other work to prepare the plant for the training of aviation cadets.

An itemized list of the expenditures to be undertaken reads: New barracks, $272,000; galley, $76,830; gymnasium, $22,600; boxing pavilian, $13,000; water supply $25,000; boilers, $32,500, dormitory alterations, $12,200; academic hall completion $3,500; left wing completion, $17,500; and completion of the student Brothers' quarters, $2,500.

Brother Austin announced that work on new construction and on modifications will begin at once. Cadet training will commence in June.

Carpenter Leaves For Norfolk, Va.

Melvin Carpenter, senior footballer from Weed, California, has withdrawn from the college and is now a physical education instructor at the Navy base in Norfolk, Va., the office of the recorder announced early this week.

Carpenter's training at Saint Mary's qualified him for a "chief specialist's" rating in the Navy.

While at Saint Mary's, Carpenter played center on the Gael football team and was an active member of the Block S. M. Society. He was enrolled in the School of Arts and Letters, taking a major in history and a minor in education.

It was revealed that despite his forced withdrawal, Carpenter will receive his degree when he completes the work of the present semester by correspondence.

Journalists To Convene Tomorrow

Claude La Belle, Wood Soanes To Be Guest Speakers

By ARTHUR SPITTLER

Another addition to the already splendid program planned for the Tenth Annual California Catholic High School Press Convention was made known today when it was announced that Robert Fouts and Cliff Hoff, former producers of the now extinct "Saint Mary's Speaks" radio show, would enact a dramatization of the life of Louis Guisto in the war.

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The program will commence tomorrow, April 18 at the Convention Mass at 8:00 o'clock, following which, at 9:00 o'clock the delegates will register in Dante Hall. After the registration the delegates will convene in Room 201, Dante Hall, to hear the welcoming address by Gerard Fitzpatrick, student body president.

Gerard Fitzpatrick

At 9:45 all delegates will compete in the "Spot News" contest, a test of speed and precision. Later at 10:30, all seniors who have entered the competition for two journalism scholarships to Saint Mary's will meet for an hour and a half examination.

One of the two seminars to be conducted at 11:30 will be a roundtable discussion of "Make-up" problems and methods, while the other will be a "Mimeographed Papers" seminar. At the luncheon, which will be served in the student dining hall at 12:30, Claude La Belle, drama critic of the San Francisco News, will address the members of the convention.

EXHIBITION

There will be exhibits in the Collegian office in Galileo Hall at 1:30, as well as throughout the day. The nationally known drama critic of the Oakland Tribune, Wood Soanes, will conduct a roundtable on dramatic criticism in journalism at 2:00.

Havelock Hunter, sports editor of the Contra Costa Gazette, will head a roundtable discussion on Editorial and Feature Writing at 3:00, while at the same time Dan McGuire, sports editor of the Berkeley Gazette, will conduct a seminar on sports writing, George Farnham, chairman of the convention, revealed.

At 4:00 o'clock there will be a general assembly in De La Salle Lounge for the purpose of awarding trophies, medals and other prizes won in competition.

To the most improved paper in the convention will go the trophy donated by Mr. T. J. Mellott of the Irish Catholic newspaper, The Leader. The Richmond Independent Trophy will be awarded to the most improved mimeographed paper. Three medals will be given to the writers who place first, second and third in the "Spot News" contest, and scrolls will be presented to the publishers of the most improved paper of each division.

FARNHAM CHAIRMAN

The committee in charge of the convention consists of the following men: George Farnham, general chairman of the convention; William Elliott, assistant chairman and registrar of delegates; William Feneran, toastmaster at the luncheon; John Malone, chairman of exhibits; and Richard Colbert, chairman in charge of judging "Spot News" contest. These men will be in charge of the entire proceedings of the day.

Brother Bernard, Thomas Twomey, George Farnham, William Feneran, Gerard Fitzpatrick, and Richard Saveri will be the chief judges in the contests. They will be ably aided and abetted by the assistant judges; John Klein, Joseph Picchi, Francis Mahoney, Thomas Dowd, Milo Mackin, Daniel McNamara, James Lorigan, Horway Witteman, Gerald Ring, John Malone, and Stanley Rischard.

About twenty schools have signified their intention of entering the convention.

Homecoming Day Plans Made Ready

Committees Named To Aid In Annual Alumni Day Sunday

The "old grads" and some not quite so old are coming back to the campus on Sunday for the annual Homecoming Day celebration of the Saint Mary's Alumni. And they are coming back in great numbers, for right now with times as uncertain as they are, when many alumni, particularly those in the armed forces, know not what tomorrow may bring, want once again to figuratively grasp the hand of alma mater.

Sunday's program although it is intended to give the alumni "another day at college", nevertheless, in keeping with the times, tends toward the serious, rather than the lighter vein, the implied motto seeming to be "this is war," and these are war times.

FLAG RAISING AT 8:45

The Homecoming program will begin with the raising of the flag at 8:45 with John J. Burke, '09, past commander of Zane Irwin Post of the American Legion in charge of the ceremony.

At the Mass and Communion at 9:00 o'clock, two brothers will have the important parts. The Rev. Peter A. Kelly, '25, St. Patrick's Church, Larkspur, will be the celebrant of the Mass, and his younger brother, the Rev. Patrick J. Kelly O.P., '27, St. Albert's College, Oakland will deliver the sermon.

MAHONEY CHAIRMAN

Justin Mahoney, who is chairman of the reunion for members of the Saint Mary's Student Army Training Corps in conjunction with Homecoming Day, will preside at the Communion breakfast in the College dining room at 9:45, with addresses of welcome to be given by Brother Austin, president of the College and Gerard Fitzpatrick, president of the Associated Students.

At 10:15, there will be a general alumni meeting with election of alumni officers in the College dining room with Raymond J. Arata, '28, president of the Alumni Association, presiding.

SATC REUNION MEETING

At 1:30 p.m., there will be a reunion of all former members of the Saint Mary's Student Army Training Corps, the men who were quartered at the College during the last war. Justin Mahoney of San Francisco, chairman of the SATC reunion committee, will preside and the program will include a special address of welcome by Brother Austin to these men who are holding their first reunion in 24 years.

Norman "Red" Strader, '26, director of athletics, will be in charge of the contests for the James M. Smith, '10 punting trophy. This event is scheduled for 2:00 o'clock.

At 2:30, the old grads who feel athletically inclined will participate in a softball game in the

Engineers Sponsor Big Activities

Prof. Brosterhous To Conduct Movies And Field Trips

By JACK ERLWEIN

Last Tuesday afternoon before an audience of approximately one-hundred Saint Mary's students, the Engineering Society of Saint Mary's College, under the leadership of Professor Claude Brosterhous, presented five motion pictures depicting noted local and recent feats in modern engineering.

PICTURES SHOWN

The principal pictures shown were: a portrayal in sound and technicolor of the formation of finished steel from crude iron ore; a sound movie of the building of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, from it's first conception on blue-print paper to it's final completion; and a pictorial explanation with sound of the different stages and processes used in the manufacture of a modern medium bomber.

Between the main pictures two selected short subjects were shown. One was an eye-witness view of the eccentric manipulations and final collapse of the much-discussed Tacoma Bridge. The other was a silent portrayal of certain phases in the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge.

STANDING ROOM

Although a full house was anticipated, the attendance went even beyond expectations, filling the seventy-five available seats and leaving only standing room for about twenty-five or thirty late comers, according to Joseph Guptill, president of the Engineering Society.

BROSTERHOUS MC

Professor Brosterhouse, who acted as master of ceremonies, stated that the movies were brought about mainly through the efforts of Guptill and Rostislav Kemarsky, sophomore engineering students, who procured the films. Brosterhouse also thanked Joseph Reutz for his fine work as projection man, as well as all those who were instrumental in making the pictures a success.

YMI To Sponsor Non-Profit Raffle

The Saint Mary's council of the Young Men's Institute is sponsoring a War Savings Bond and Stamps raffle. The drawing is to be held Wednesday, April 22, 1942 at 12:00 noon in the students dining room.

It is strictly a non-profit activity since there are but 100 tickets on sale and all proceeds will go into the purchase of the bond and stamps. The tickets sell at twenty-five cents each and three prizes will be given away. First prize is a $25 War Savings Bond; second prize is $5 in War Savings Stamps; third prize is $1.25 in War Savings Stamps. With the 100 tickets, the council will collect $25 all of which will be used in buying the bond and the stamps — $18.75 for the bond and $6.25 for the stamps.

Supper Dance: Gaels to Play Hosts to Seventy-Five CHN Misses Tonight

As the social season began, so will it end—

Remembering an evening last August when the official 1941-42 social calendar opened with the Saint Mary's student body playing host to bay region Catholic women's colleges at a dance on the campus, the same student body will close that social calendar this evening in the same fashion.

Seventy-five students from College of the Holy Names in Oakland will arrive on the campus at seven o'clock this evening to be guests of the Saint Mary's men at a supper and dance in the main dining room.

QUOTA FILLED

Richard Saveri, sophomore class president in charge of arrangements for the social, has announced that the quota of Saint Mary's students who may attend the affair has been filled by a voluntary signup in which the principle "first come first served" was used as basis for discrimination.

Since only seventy-five girls will be present at the dance the number of Saint Mary's men there must be limited accordingly.

Music for the dancing will be supplied by an orchestra, yet unnamed. The dining room will be decorated, and refreshments will be served during the course of dancing, which will end at 11 o'clock.

LAST ASSMC AFFAIR

The cooperation of the Holy Names College student body in arranging for the young ladies to be on the campus this evening was secured by Miss Edwina Grover and Miss Bette Gallagher, senior students at the Oakland College.

Assisting Saveri on the local committee are John Feerick and Eymard Gallagher.

While tonight's dance will be followed by another dance on the campus tomorrow evening, it was pointed out by Saveri that the supper-dance is actually the last social activity sponsored by the student body this term, except for the exclusive senior week activities, since the dance tomorrow in the gymnasium is under the direction of the Moraga civilian defense council.

Founder's Day Celebrated Last Tuesday

Founding Of College Is Celebrated By Special Memorial Day

By VINCENT MANCINI

One night, about 80 years ago, an esteemed gentleman entered this in his diary: "Today, I blessed the Chapel of the College of Saint Mary, beyond the Mission Dolores." This distinguished prelate, Cadoc Alemany, the first Archbishop of San Francisco, was he who thus recorded that Saint Mary's College had been founded some six hours before, and was well on its way to a significant history in America.

FOUNDER'S DAY

Last Tuesday, April 14, we celebrated the founding of this College. On that day, many of its friends went back in fancy to that memorable year, 1863, when our school began.

Several years before, however, in the "village that boasted the vices of a city,"there had been established a small school, which marked the coming of higher education to the Pacific Slope. It was an insignificant affair, located in the basement of the Cathedral on California street, under the title, "Saint Mary's School."

BISHOP ALEMANY

But as San Francisco grew, so progressed the ideas of thinking men who wanted to see knowledge bound the gap from East to West. Also, priests were a scarcity, and if there was to be any proportional development of the clergy, in respect of San Francisco's growing population, there would be a need for an "environment where the moral and intellectual atmosphere would be permeated with the good and the true." So for about ten years, from 1855, Archbishop Alemany deliberated upon and prepared for, the building of a Catholic University. After selecting Mission Hill, from many plots proposed, he began building in August, 1861. The site was favorably situated, being removed from the dire influences of city life, yet being only four miles from the city hall.

Last CIC Meeting Held At Notre Dame

The final CIC meeting of the current semester was held last Wednesday evening, April 15, at Notre Dame College in Belmont.

A report was made on the success of the recent dance sponsored by the group at the Palace Hotel, and it was revealed that Saint Mary's sold 40 of the total 311 bids. It was decided to give all profit made on the affair to the Propagation of the Faith Society.

Hitler, Mahatma Ghandi, Ted Lewis and Carmen Miranda Entertain Campus In Block S.M. Initiation

By WILLIAM ELLIOTT

Ah tradition! Especially that tradition which necessitates initiation. Athletes, who have earned their block, have been ushered into the Block S.M. society via two days of semi-violent, greatly exaggerated, somewhat foolish, yet intently humorous rigamarole.

Now it can be told that Carmen Miranda McPartland can't rhumba; but oh, those hips. The white diapers of Gus Mota brought out that bronze, South of the border tan. Eddie May Cerf's recipes' are, in a vague sense, the mode around these parts, if applause means anything.

MISS PODESTO

Passes have been taken at Miss Podesto, of all persons. The shy miss had a tough time keeping her straw fedora from blowing far, far away. Of course, Bill Burke, Vern Genesy, and Frank Shannon have hit the road before; but, those two for a nickle cigars would make any other tramp turn up his nose. The exhale from just one brought tears to the eyes of Eddie May Cerf when she was in the midst of her best recipe. Poor May just coughed and coughed and coughed—she knew the cigar was just about to explode.

HERR FEERICK

Adolph Feerick doesn't want to set the world on fire—just a little blaze in Moscow. Herr "A. F." had a form fitting boy scout suit on, with belt awards galore. Where was the tenderfoot ranking? Or is "A.F." a first class . . . . already?

The warbling of 'baby' Mota wins the prize. 'One-point' Gussie would be a sensation on the ether waves—or under the influence of same, maybe better.

Ghandi Winn looked more like one of the ancient Aztecs. He should have had a bow and arrow so he could shoot down a bouncing ping pong ball at 50 feet. The sandles of Ghandi will put him in 1-B—flat feet.

Miss Moraga Quintana had a figure—it disappeared with a bang in the dining room, however. She had no chance to sport off the shape in the sun, but she could have given a few examples of the Australian crawl. Water, water, all around, but not a drop to dive in.

"Carmen" McPartland

The best part of the initiation is the last two hours—so it seems. All costumes are taken off, in preference to what is termed 'birthday suit.' Then the fun begins. But, enough, the rest of the initiation is censored to all aliens of the society.

THE "OAR"

Ah tradition! Yes, it is essential to make college life the real thing. Perhaps a few members of the Block S.M. society would like to do away with all tradition for a while. But, when next year rolls around, you'll see Eddie May Cerf, Adolph Feerick, the three bums, et al, at the other end of the paddle, or should it be spelled "oar," laughing with glee as the angle is assumed by the new member.

Ray Curry Balloted As Vice-President; Boock Noses Out Wood In Close Secretarial Race

Cortopassi Named Intra-Mural Manager; .... Zipse Wins, But McNamara Gets Large Write-In Vote; Linton Is Yell Leader

With the sanction of 93 student body votes, William Feneran became the eightieth student body president in the history of Saint Mary's College yesterday afternoon.

Aiding Feneran for the 1942-43 term will be Raymond Curry at the vice-president's spot, James Boock, secretary, August Zipse, treasurer, and Roy Cortopassi as intramural manager. Walter Linton managed to nose out his four opponents for the office of yell leader.

GAELET GRAD

Feneran, a graduate of Saint Mary's High, is sports editor of the Collegian. During the past year he has been successively a committeeman for the Junior Prom, a member of the Intercollegiate Committee, Chairman of the Santa Clara rally-dance, sports editor of the 1942 Gael, and a member of the APGU.

As a sophomore, Feneran received second place honors in the Oliver Essay Contest, was chairman of the 1941 Catholic High School Press Convention, and was elected class secretary. He was also active in debating and public speaking during this year.

HOFF NEAREST RIVAL

Feneran was contested for the presidency by Cliff Hoff, campus radio announcer, and John Fricke, junior science student. Hoff was his closest rival in the hotly-contested election.

Curry's closest opponent was Milo Mackin, editor of the 1942 Gael. Thomas Coyne and Thomas Coll were also in the vice-presidential race.

James Boock, a graduate of Christian Brothers' School, Sacramento, was freshman debate manager in his sophomore year and has been prominent in debating and campus social affairs. Boock was opposed by Sophomores Donald Wood and Francis Starrs for the secretary post.

McNAMARA MAKES IT HOT

The new treasurer, August Zipse, was the only one placed on the ballot for treasurer. Daniel McNamara was his closest rival, with a write-in vote of 42. William Burke, Leonard Harrington, William Kennerley and John Kinavey also received write-in votes.

Zipse has been prominent in debating, drama and campus radio work.

Jack Pollock and Albert Ratto opposed Roy Cortopassi in the race for intra-mural manager. Cortopassi, sophomore resident student, managed to come out on top with 89 votes. He is himself an intramural athlete and is also a member of the YMI.

LINTON "DAY DOG"

Walter Linton managed to eke out a four vote lead from his closest opponent, Robert Fouts, and became head yell leader. Leo Foley, Melville Sattui, and Mario Menesini were also in the running.

All the student body officers, with the exception of head yell leader, are occupied by resident students.

The votes were tallied by Gerard Fitzpatrick, present ASSMC president, Joseph Marini and Ilo Scatena.

Alumni Message:

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is Brother Austin's Message to Alumni on the Annual Homecoming Day. The letter was written from Washington, D. C., where his is currently completing transactions with the United States Navy in connection with their using the Saint Mary's College Campus next term).

Dear Alumnus.

As President of Saint Mary's I want to add a most cordial invitation in behalf of the Christian Brothers and all of the faculty to come home to Saint Mary's on April 19.

Perhaps you have not been back for a long time and you will think that you will not know anyone, that all of the old Brothers are gone. To answer this, let me say that the following Brothers will be here to welcome you: Brother Henry, Chairman, Brother V. Leo, Brother Vantasian, Brother Vellesian, Brother Josephus, Brother Clement, Brother Ralph, Brother Cornelius, Brother Bede Edward and Brother Patrick. We of the more recent generation of teachers will welcome you, too.

We are not inviting you back to "sell" you anything, except to sell the idea of Saint Mary's. We feel, however, that if you do come back, you will go away as a real "salesman" for Saint Mary's College.

Sincerely yours,
BROTHER AUSTIN,
President.

Sports Air Show Readied

Last week Bob Fouts and Cliff Hoff made known their intention of turning professional and having a radio program of their own. Until recently these two produced and enacted the campus program, "Saint Mary's Speaks," but due to wartime restrictions, the show was cancelled.

Preparations are now being made for the new, quarter-hour sports review and final arrangements should be reached in a few weeks.

"No definite time has been scheduled as yet," said Fouts, "but the show will probably be featured on a Monday evening. We should know for sure within the following two weeks."

The problem that now confronts the two producers is the procurement of a sponsor for the program. This is the only problem that holds them back, for they have received the approval of Sports Editor Bud Tehaney of the Oakland Post-Enquirer and Mr. Arthur Westlund, manager of radio station KRE.

When the final difficulty has been cleared, the program will be aired under the title, "The Post-Enquirer Sportsreel." This will hail the debut of Fouts and Hoff into the circles of radio professionals.

Juniors Too Busy Studying For Exams

According to Ray Curry, president of the junior class, the juniors are not planning to organize any activities for the end of the term.

"The reason for this," said Curry, "is that any activities undertaken at this time will burden those who have to take final examinations."

He further wished to make it clear that this in no way means that juniors will not partake in any activities, but that they are not planning any events to be supervised by the class as a whole.

"This would be exceedingly hard to do, as many juniors are busy campaigning for the offices in the ASSMC, to which they have been nominated," he said.

He wished to announce that the scholastic year 1941-'42, was very successful, socially and financially, for the junior class, despite the sudden changes which had to be made in its administration.

Mullany To Head Keith Alumni Group

John Mullany, '29, of San Francisco has been appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the visit of the Alumni to the Keith Gallery on the Campus on Homecoming Day. Mullany has long been a supporter of Brother Cornelius and his Keith associates in the effort to make Saint Mary's the center of interest in the works of Keith.

On the committee with Mullany are the following: Albert T. Shine, 06, Wallace Grant, '23, Professor James L. Hagerty, '19, Jack Daly, Noel Lynch, Jack Fagan and Daniel Murphy. This committee will have charge of the Keith Exhibit on Homecoming Day as well as the Keith program at 3:00 o'clock that day at which time Brother Cornelius will speak on "Keith, Old Master of California."

Vol. XXXIX Founded 1903 Number 28.

They're Coming Home . .

The students and faculty of Saint Mary's College welcomes to Moraga Valley all Saint Mary's men; students of the college in the last war, recent graduates and the "old timers", all come once more to visit the mother that once fostered them.

These men have scattered throughout the country; many are part of our fighting forces, others are backing them up in vital war industries. Because of the changing times this home-coming promises to be not only the largest, but also the most sincere that has ever been held at Saint Mary's. All will realize that soon they will leave, many never to return.

The seriousness of the affair will be girded by that sturdy bond of fellowship which has always bound together every Saint Mary's man. Students, graduates and faculty members will mingle and fuse into one, and this spirit will be carried away in everyone's heart.

Since it might be the last general homecoming that will be feasible within the duration, everyone who can possibly come will be here. It is with these true companions that we should unite and point toward a greater Saint Mary's and a greater America of the future.

Welcome Scriveners!

They'll be here tomorrow. Infant hands that have already soiled their uncalloused fingers with that terrible stuff—printer's ink. You can't play with newspapers very long without getting at least a speck of this stuff on you somewhere.

However, these amazing kids of the Catholic High School Press might be classed among the most professional of the amateurs. Some of them are doing their job for just the pleasure of seeing their stuff in print, but some of them are laying up for a big day ahead, when they will be working on a big-time paper.

This staff is welcoming these youngsters to the Tenth Annual Catholic High School Press Convention. They are going to show their wares, the proof of their best efforts, tomorrow. May the best news sheet win.

Dancing Tonight . . .

The active social calendar comes to an abrupt close for the average student with the appearance of the Supper Dance with Holy Names on Friday night, and the Moraga Valley Defense Council's dance on Saturday night.

The Supper Dance exemplifies the good will that exists between Holy Names and Saint Mary's. We have already cooperated this year in the field of dramatics and now we extend this cooperation to the social field.

Saint Mary's takes pleasure in entertaining these young ladies from Holy Names. This annual dance, always in the past a success, tends to surpass dances of former years. Students are invited to play host and in return are promised a pleasurable evening.

On the next night the Moraga Valley Defense Council will hold their dance in the gymnasium in order to raise much needed money for expenses incurred in maintaining a look-out post. This dance promises to be a worthwhile entertainment treat while at the same time raising money for a worthy cause.

Best of Luck, Bill! . . .

He built his platform a few weeks ago. His opponents dismantled theirs, but we hope Feneran doesn't touch one plank.

They always promise a lot, these student prexies. Sadly enough, the student-body promises them a lot too when these young execs have done their term.

Feneran has come into his office by general approval. The votes cast for him were by fellows who as a majority figure that he is the best suited of the nominees. We hope so!

Feneran wields a lot of power now. He can make or break the student-body spirit by his policies. As president he is our contact with our neighboring institutions, and his diplomacy is more than a shakehands if Saint Mary's must remain in the public grace.

This article may seem rather severe, but we are not afraid. Feneran has been no secret to us. We know he can carry out his promises even in spite of the tough burdens that have fallen in war-time. However — God be with him, and may he die with plenty of sugar in his coffee.

MoragaMusings

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "Come on, Gus, we'll dance the Virginia reel," shyly suggested a timid young maiden to our masculine basketballer, "Chihuahua" Mota. "Okeh," replied our hero, "but first who is this girl Virginia Reel."

INITIATION CAPERINGS: Tony Winn's size fourteens are pretty sore after running around in those wooden sandals. . . . "Hollywood" Ray Ahlstrom acted his part so realistically that it is hard to believe that he hasn't had experience in the same line before coming to Saint Mary's. . . . Best gag of entire week was "Frankie" Callen singing "Me and My Shadow" with Mota closely following his footsteps. . . . Poor Eddie Cerf caught a cold while portraying Shirley Temple in her rompers. . . . Johnny Podesto almost broke in half when he was forced to stare "Red" Strader in the face for several minutes. . . .

SUNDAY DOINGS — Freshmen and Sophomore representatives had quite a time last Sunday at a bay area informal dance. . . . Some of those who appeared more interested than others were Marty O'Connell, Dancin' Jackson Verutti, "Sliver" Williams and "Mose" Foley.

WHY? — Thursday finally found out why "Sleepy" Callen bought a ticket to the recent Passion Play but didn't attend. It seems that our own "Gerry" Fitzpatrick took the poor boy's best gal to the performance. My, Sleepy, isn't that awful? . . .

GLAMOR LEGS — Quipped a wit at the same Play "That Callen boy is a right handsome lad, but shucks, just look at Gerald Ring's legs!" . . .

MISCELLANEOUS: Do you want to know why our child prodigy Milo Mackin is not writing to the SFCW miss any more? Well, it seems that she refused to be a sponsor to his brain child, the Gael. Now, Milo, quit mixin' business with pleasure. . . . And Jamsie Boock must be days off his schedule now that he attended the CIC dance. Jimmie was really hopping around that night, and without his railroad watch, too. . . . Says "Baldy" Rischard: "Don't worry, fellows, grass doesn't grow on a busy street" . . . And a certain individual who is really not the Muser, nor Thursday either, is being unjustly accused by some unsuspecting parties. Thursday won't reveal his true identity, but he will advise them to keep their pretty little noses where they belong, in their books. Babes that play with fire will be burned. . . . Long John's been a pretty sick lad, so why don't some of you fellows pay the good natured egg a visit. . . . And when we mentioned that the Brush and Bush duo were really big time operators, we weren't kidding. Why, they even managed to hit the Intra-Sorority dance last week. Boys, how do you do it? Pray tell us. . . . So mind your p's and q's, for Thursday, the Muser and his other eighteen assistants will be both at the Supper dance tonight and the Civilian Defense dance tomorrow night. . . . And speaking of dances, a group of students are planning to greet the reopening of the hotels in the big city with a soiree of hotel dancing, so any damsels that are interested might be wise to set their traps, if you know what we mean. . . .

SIGHT OF THE WEEK: Either Bill McPartland as "Carmen Miranda" or Little Bobby Fouts all dressed up! Fouts will unveil his new "Zute" suit at the supper dance tonight. Since the cuffs have been reduced to a minimum due to government priorities, he now has to put his pants on with a shoe horn.

The Bystander

Shadow Boxing The Muser

By Richard Colbert '43

MUSER HAS ENOUGH ROPE

The Moraga Muser, who maintains his useless existence a few points stern and starboard of the Bystander, is in a predicament. Or to phrase it vulgarly, so that the Muser will understand it, he has stuck out his neck. Ordinarily, the result would be butchery and a fight over the wishbone, but the Bystander is no hatchetman except where the English language is concerned, and so, having a profound pity for the blissfully ignorant, he will merely scrub off a little of the dirt.

The particular object of the Bystander's ire is the comment last week regarding attendance at the Passion Play. The Muser, sassy pup that he is, was up in the air because "only four Gael athletes . . . thought themselves humble enough to attend the Saint Mary's production." This small group was the sole representation, the Muser said, "of our three major athletic aggregations."

MYOPIC CRITICISM

That, the Bystander believes, is the plus ultra in shortsightedness. True, the support given the Passion Play by the student body was disgraceful. But that is not the only problem. It is almost universally true, in every school we know of, that the biggest job of all is to persuade the student body to waste one or two few of their valuable hours on the so-called "cultural" activities. For an instance of this, compare the numbers who throng to a dance, any dance, or a prizefight, with the courageous few who are on hand for a musicale, drama, or lecture. There is never any difficulty in cramming a hall for a basketball game. Try to fill the front rows with college students if the attraction is a lecturer! Not quite a year ago, a couple of carloads of Gaels drove ten miles to see a second-rate movie on the same night a group of their classmates were presenting three first class dramas in the gym, not two hundred yards from their bedrooms.

WHY BLAME THE ATHLETES?

None of which is any unusual reflection on the loyalty of Saint Mary's athletes. They, as a group, are unstinting of themselves in at least one extra-curricular activity, while many of their critics call a halt at a game of pool or a hand of Pedro.

To return to the Muser (if you don't mind), we might pose a few embarrassing questions, any of which can be asked with as good grounds as the Muser presents.

We wonder why the Muser, when he decided to call the student body to ask for non-support of the Passion Play, selected only the brawnier portion? If there were only four Gael athletes in the audience, there was an equal scarcity of members of other groups. There were, for example, less than six representatitves of the Dante club, which, if you compare the photographs in the 1942 Gael yearbook, is almost as large as the football team. Or the senior class? Why were there so few from that group?

LET'S HAVE MASS SPANKING

If we are going to do any spanking, why not save a paddle or two for the daydogs, who have the means of transportation which the boarders to a great extent lack? To be fair let us condemn the Gaels from Oakland in whose backyard, so to speak, the play was staged, yet who allowed themselves to be outnumbered by the contingent from outside that area. We could go on ad infinitum without exhausting the list of groups which the Muser, if he had any constructive cvriticism in mind, might have included in the orbit of his shocked glance. By what immunity, for instance, are the Aire Oge, Collegian staff, Debate society, Knights of Columbus, YMI, and the Fourth Estate, saved from public scorn? Science students were as scarce as burnt cork at a KKK meeting, and the group from which most appreciation, and consequently most support, would be expected, the Arts and Letters school, was represented to the extent of less than 15 percent.

Editorial Emphasis

COMMENT ON CURRENT NEWS

By Richard Saveri

Mark Sullivan, the prominent Irish-American member of the Fourth Estate, once philosophized that a good journalist, much like any other living creature, was endowed with two eyes, two ears but only one mouth; consequently, the Divine Creator evidently intended that man reveal only half of what he heard or saw. During the past few weeks, while becoming accustomed to the position of editor of this publication, we managed to put what Charles Lamb would call "our exterior twin appendages, hanging ornaments, and (architecturally speaking) handsome volutes to the human capital" to the ground and to sharpen our bespectacled, sky blue but still defective 1B eyes to make enough observations to comment on the current campus news. Then referring back to what Sullivan had iterated, we 'umbly attempted a rapid synthesis and cohesion of this voluminous data to produce this journalistic phenomenon and masterpiece (?) with as much savoir faire as was possible.

This week, however, we are going all out to deviate from this plan to present and to expres sour heartfelt castigations of a certain well-meaning organization whose superb ideals and basic principles were evidently frustrated and cast aside when it sponsored its last event. We are referring to that illustrious, battered but still functioning Catholic Intercollegiate Committee!

What Happened To The CIC?

As we understand it, the purpose of this eminent body, which is composed of politicos and representatives from the seven Catholic Colleges of the Bay Area, was to break down the unfriendly spirit which existed between these Catholic colleges and to unite toward a common goal, which was then said to be a united Catholic Collegiate front and the encouragement of Catholic action among the students. More recently, particularly in the past several years, this Committee has slowly but surely left its path and degenerated into a superficial and social mockery of the name which it bears. It no longer is a body which represents the individual constituents and which is united to propagate Catholic action, something which it incredibly professes, among the College students of the bay area. Instead, the group has degenerated into a superficial clique that is solely interested in sponsoring one dance a year and a luxurious reproduction of a collegiate upper stratum or society.

Although professing to be a united, Catholic organization, it violates trivial but fundamental ramifications of Catholic action that are known even to a high school or grammar school student. It sponsors a dance on the evening before a Holy Name Sunday, a Sunday when every College man should be at his home parish setting an example for the non-college lads and for the younger men of his district. If leadership is not to be found among these College men, where is it to be uncovered? We recognize that the prime objection that will be raised against this argument is that it is puerile and childish, but if this eminent group violates such a trivial matter, is it competent to deal with those of grave importance? Is it logical to subjugate essentials to personal satisfaction and exteriors? But of course, we forgot that college men and women are no longer required to participate in or to support the fundamental and basic rules or dictates of their religion; this society and these tenets are merely for the children. They are now important, educated, intellectual and we could say superficial facsimiles of the great American Catholic collegiate young man and young lady; however, as we do not know whether the libel laws permit it, we shall not say it!

Why Not Practice Humility?

Now, the annual CIC super-formal is such a social and luxurious affair! Why, not everyone can go to this ball! Just the college man who saves his monthly allowance from home can manipulate his budget to attend this magnificent splendor. It is sponsored at a leading palatial bay area hotel and it features a recognized and extremely expensive orchestra, while the young men come bedecked in their rented tuxedos and the elite young women dance and walk in the fashion parade with their latest Parisian creations. Now this is what they so brazenly term "Catholic humility"! A rough and astoundingly exact estimate of expenses taken by this columnist revealed that the average masculine college student's expenditures for that dance would have paid about one-third of the tuition fees at one of our prominent non-Catholic bay area universities. Is it wise, feasible or even practical for an average college student to squander such exorbitant amounts on a lavish, superficial, created and manufactured evening of entertainment and enjoyment?

Now we are not prating in a strict Puritanical sense nor are we opposed to student social functions. We recognize the necessity of such recreation and activity, but we most definitely do not favor the emphasizing or creating of a superficial and affected collegiate society. Perhaps these committeemen should take into consideration that the average Saint Mary's student, who is principally from out of state, is not going to attach extra burdens or expenditures of such fantastic amounts to his parents for any such collegiate activity. So would it not be more practical both for the committee and the individuals to take cognizance of some of these essential factors and to practice a little of that Christian humility and a bit of that Catholic action which they so astutely profess to propagate? Are they not defeating their very purpose by assuming the outlook which they have taken?

Dick Tracy Gets B-B Eyes

By GERALD RING, '44

OUT OF FOCUS: How the photographer ever managed to mar my rather handsome face, I'll never know. It's no wonder he grabbed me by the ears and tried to husk me; I look like Corny Joe from Kansas. Naturally everyone who reads this string of nonsense from now on will be biased before he starts, and I can't blame him.

HITHER AND THITHER: The Creative Writing Club, whose purpose is to develop tyro writers who feel they are following the 'gleam,' is really going places down at Santa Clara. They are holding a short-story contest soon, and this has set me thinking.

During the school presidential campaign, there was evidence of the demand for cartoonists. In the '42 Gael will be the handiwork of Collopy. Jug Malone rapped off some 'goodies' for the Freshman Thank-You. Bellani annoys Prof. LeFevre with his chalk abstracts of Dooley Callen. Bob Russell, Irish and several others have the seeds but they never planted them. Very well—why don't we have a Cartoon Contest; hold a gallery exhibit, and let the school vote on the work?

"What a splendid fit," said the sailor, as they carried the epileptic out of his shop.

RACES: In the recent student-body elections at Cal, the inevitable had to happen. Two write-in votes were cast for General Douglas MacArthur as student prexy. . . . I wonder if anyone voted for somebody named Fene Ran at our elections? He had a big banner on Galileo Hall. And what do you think of Bill's Beechie Girl idea?

HERE AND THERE: Over at the co-op, be careful when you are trying to avoid that sales tax. You can buy your pie first; hesitate, and then buy your milk. But those boys are getting keen. They hold your dime for the pie, and send Puncher Quinn to trail you around till you buy the milk. Then the whole crew hops you for the penny. . . . Listing to the Philip Morris program, Roy Block's salute to Saint Mary's, was a perfect example of radio timing. . . . Phoenix, Cards, Still Playing For "Title"

Gael Gossip

By BILL FENERAN
Collegian Sports Editor

MATERIAL PLUS GOOD NEWS CHEERS "RED" . . .

It really is great to hear that circumstances will not put the kibosh on athletic events in general for the coming year—they will not be discontinued, though naturally they may be, to a certain extent, curtailed. The reason for the above mental memo is, primarily, the situation on the Gael gridiron. "Red" Strader, as at no other time in his varied career, has the makings of a "dream team". Unlike the nightmare of years gone by, this ball club, besides having the talent essential to an outstanding aggregation, has something commonly called "proper mental attitude," in addition to a generally admirable "spirit de corps".

Take, for example, the talent returning from last year's varsity. At the ends are lined up Ray Curry and Tom Coll. Curry, last season, despite all the publicity given Roy Ruskusky, was by far the better end; defensively, he had no peer on the Coast, offensively, he could hold his own with any overgrown tackle. Coll is probably the ruggedest man on the squad. We offer a standing prize to the opponent that makes Coll say "Uncle" next season, or ever for that matter. "Hod" Keeter rates plenty of consideration, as a reserve flankman.

At the tackles, Jim Powers and Bill McPartland are backed by Lex Daoust. The guards can boast only of Pete Bellani, who ranks with Coll as "just plain tough". At center, once more, is Amblin' Al Ratto, with Tony Bilotti and Dick Harkins in reserve. The backfield has little to complain about, either, with Frank Callen, Johnny Podesto, and Ray Ahlstrom on deck. Besides, Tony Compagno and Roy Giusti will be available at the conclusion of the baseball season.

THE FROSH ARE GRID TEAM'S JOYS . . .

But, Strader's real pride and joy are the up-coming freshmen. Without taking any set order, gander at these names. Joltin' Jack Verutti, Gonzalo Morales, "Bud" Townsend, Jack Germaine, Tom Scully, Jack Cobie, Joe Ferem, Ed Russell, Laurin DeClusin. They cavort in the Raider's backfield. Now, about the linemen: Gerry Castagnetto, Frank Carrillo, Bill Bunn, Senor Saghatelian, Fred Neilson, Joe Suarez, Al Accornero, "Moose" Foley, Tommy Moran, Jack Cunha, Bill Zambresky, Bill Ward, Monk Menkee and some of the other boys.

On these men, several in particular, the names of which are common knowledge, Strader depends mainly for the success of the season to come. Each one of these boys could rate tops on any team on the coast, and when the time comes, (to mention just a few—Verutti, Morales, Townsend, Scully, Ferem, Russell, Castagnetto, Carrillo, Bunn, Saghatelian, Foley, Neilson, Suarez, Accornero, Zambresky, etc.)—we'll stack them with the best in the country.

HALLELUIAH, COHN'S A BUM . . .

Incidentally, and this is directly at Art Cohn, (with pointed remarks also for the benefit of Pressy Sullivan, and the rest who shot off their big mouths,) where in 'ell do you get off now? Art, old boy, you, in particular, were certain that old Saint Mary's was to move to new surroundings. You, and your hidden informer, were certain that you were right. Well, Art, your man slipped-up! Yep, for once, Cohn, you left yourself out on a limb, and, brother, are you gonna get sawed off. Explain this muff, if possible, Artie, how it is that a "big-time" sports writer can be so completely off the beam. Hasn't anyone ever taught you to find out about these things before shooting off your face? Well, Cohn, old son, kick your way out of this one.

By the way, AC, we'll give you one week to think up an adequate explanation. If, at the end of that time, you haven't even had the decency to reply to this column, plus the personal note we figure on writing you, brother, prepare to exit. Oakland won't be big enough for you to hide in. And we're not kiddin'!

MEMOS ON THE MORAGA MEMORANDUM . . .

Notes on the Cuff: Our old Alma Mammy, Saint Mary's High, is staging a mammoth minstrel show, Thursday and Friday evenings, April 23, and 24 in the Oakland Women's City Club Auditorium. We guarantee that this annual production will afford you an excellent opportunity to get down in the aisles and roll with laughter. The array of talent lined up, athletes, and what have you, warrants your attention for the simple reason that it's worth it. If you have seen the Stanford or Cal productions, we'll lay you 3 to 1 that you'll go away praising this show as a better one. It's enough for us that Brother Kevin is managing it.

George Carter, tenniser of '39, now a first Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, got his baptism of fire in the initial bombing of Pearl Harbor. . . . "Bitsy" Bettencourt, ex-publicist, merits his commission in a week or so. . . . "Red" Scheflin, Gaileo High, coach, and former Gael great, left for Annapolis this week to join Eddie Erdelatz as a phy. ed, instructor . . . Sam Barry, and probably Tex Oliver, are due here within two weeks. . . . A note from "Scoop" Sanguinetti, still booming about SF, tells of Swede Anderson, basketballer with Saint Mary's and the Olympic Club, who expects to be appointed to Saint Mary's Naval school as a PEI.

Frosh Meet High Schools

The freshman baseball team, having been weathered out of last week's Santa Clara game, will meet the Petaluma High School team next Thursday, and Acalanes High of Lafayette next Friday.

Both games will be on the Saint Mary's diamond. John Scanlon will face Petaluma, and Dennis Murphy will pitch against Acalanes.

Roy Cortopassi: Elected Intramural Head Has Plans

"Increased activity in baseball, more football games, and a better organized basketball schedule, are but a few of the changes and developments which will be inaugurated in next year's "best-ever" sports program."

So commented Roy Cortopassi, newly elected Intramural Sports Manager, last night upon receiving news of his election. Well qualified for the position, Cortopassi succeeds Carter Callen, retiring director.

INCREASE INTEREST

Provided that nothing intereferes with his plans, Cortopassi, a sportswriter for the Collegian, hopes to increase student interest by arranging a schedule which will meet with the convenience of all. The intramural sports program will be virtually continuous throughout the year; the baseball and football seasons will be lengthened; each team will play more games with playoffs at the end of every regular league schedule. In basketball, a two out of three game playoff will determine the class cage championship.

Track, missing from the Intramural sports program this spring, will, if possible, become a feature event next year, Cortopassi added in conclusion.

Nines Clash Twice Tues. At Stanford

Both Mori, Fitzgerald To Go To Work Against Indians At Palo Alto

Concluding the "cellar-championship" series, the Saint Mary's Phoenix meets the Stanford Indians on the Sunken Diamond at Palo Alto this Tuesday. A double-header will be played, as last Tuesday's game between these two teams was rained out.

Both ball clubs will be going all out, striving for victory in both games, in order to keep out of the CIBA cellar. Although there is little to gain by winning, there is a great deal to lose. At present, the Phoenix is in fifth place, with a two game lead over the basement dwelling Indians. It may be said that the Farm boys are the strongest team in the league in one respect: that is, they are holding up the rest of the league.

PHOENIX FAVORED

Saint Mary's, who scalped the Indians earlier in the season, 12 to 3, will be favored to sweep both ends of the twin bill. While both teams have been weak as water at the plate, the Phoenix has a much greater defensive outfit, and also has a decided advantage in the pitching department.

Although the Moragans lack quantity of pitchers, they do have quality in Charlie Mori and John Fitzgerald, who have each lost several tough games because of failure to hit behind them.

While Stanford boasts quantity in their mound corps of Wilson, Dyck, Harms, Mathews, Doe, Snyder, and Pendergrass, the only resemblance between these men and pitchers is that they play in the circle in the center of the diamond.

Bill Wilson and Dick Harms or Ray Dyck will draw the starting pitching assignments, with Don Pendergrass, willowy southpaw, likely to be pressed into service as a relief pitcher. Mori and Fitzgerald will do the hurling for the Phoenix.

Probable starting lineups:

St. Marys		Stanford
Kranda	1B	Hammett
Henningsen	2B	Caruso
Stringer	SS	Scott
Giusti	3B	Nell
Compagno	LF	Dallmar
Hooper	CF	Washburn
Quintana	RF	Kellenberger
Joseph	C	Walkup
Mori and Fitzgerald	P	Wilson and Dyck

Varsity Plays

A busy weekend is in store for the Saint Mary's Phoenix with games against the Alameda Naval Base and the University of San Francisco varsity.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30, the Phoenix will match hits and runs with the powerful Alameda Naval Base nine. The latter club holds an early season victory over the California Bears, having defeated then 4 to 2. These are the same Bears that have defeated Saint Mary's in three CIBA games. The Navy's outfit boasts a lineup littered with professional and semi-pro stars. The two teams will meet at Washington Park, Alameda.

The Moragans will venture to Seals Stadium the following day, Sunday, to face the USF nine in a return match. In a previous meeting of the two clubs on Agnon Field, the Phoenix came out on the long end of an 11 to 2 score. The Dons will seek revenge for the one sided affair at 2:30 Sunday, April 19.

Navy Builds Gym Here

Not content with things as they are, the United States Navy has declared that it will build both a new gymnasium and a boxing pavilion at their aviation training school stationed here at Saint Mary's College.

Despite the fact that the Gaels already boast of one fine gymnasium, as well as football fields and other important athletic facilities, the Navy has definitely decided, in keeping with their program of build and keep building, and their plan to stress and develop athletics and sports in general, to go ahead with their own designed construction.

According to all reports, the Navy will spend approximately $22,600 for the new gymnasium, and $13,000 for the pugilistic arena.

Strader Announces First Teams

IS IT OR AIN'T IT?—Tony Compagno, slugging bambino of the Phoenix squad, swings hard in a recent baseball contest. Compagno has been moved from third base to left field, where he protects the outer gardens. Slated to start against Stanford Tuesday, Tony is figured on heavily if Saint Mary's varsity squad is to keep Stanford happy with her "cellar championship." —Courtesy Oakland Post-Enquirer.

Tex Oliver To Take Over Naval Grid Job

ANNAPOLIS (Md.), — Herald (Tex) Oliver, Oregon University football coach, has been appointed head of the gridiron coaching staff at the Navy's Far West pre-flight school of aviation cadets.

The announcement, made today by the office of Lieut. Comdr. Tom Hamilton, director of the Navy's aviation physical training program, followed by three days Oliver's appointment as a Lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve.

Physical training officials said the Oregon coach would arrive next week for a thirty day indoctrination course at the United States Naval Academy and, in May, would report at Saint Mary's College for active duty as football coach. Lieut. Comdr. Sam Barry, former three sport coach at Southern California University, was appointed athletic director for the coast school program a month ago.

Just To Emphasize Saint Mary's Football Future, Coach Strader Names 3 Complete Grid Teams

Galloping Gaels Hit Hard, Fast Pace In Anticipation of "Red-Blue" Game, April 26; Pair of Sophs Break Into First String

As Spring practice approaches its climax, the annual Red-Blue game on Sunday, April 26, the 1942 Gael football team has taken a definite shape. Coach "Red" Strader this week, coincidental to the non-movement announcement, named his first, second, and third string lineups.

In the first team backfield are three veterans, Frank Callen at quarter; Johnny Podesto at left half, and Ray Ahlstrom at full, along with soph Jack (Fruity) Verutti at right half.

AHLSTROM, RATTO SHIFTED

Two important shifts were made by Strader when he moved Ahlstrom from right half to fullback, and big Al Ratto from tackle back to center, a position he played in his sophomore year.

On the second string, two erstwhile tackles of last year's freshman team, John Foley and Bill Bunn, were moved to plug the gaping holes at the guard positions.

There are three veteran ends returning in Ray Curry, Tom Coll, and Howard Keeter. Backing them up are the two freshman team ends, Frank Carrillo and Tommy Moran.

GAEL GRIDDERS

Following are the first three strings as announced by Norman Strader:

Coach "Red" Strader

Second team: Ends, Frank Carrillo and Howard Keeter; Tackles, Lex Daoust and Fred Nielson; guards, John Foley and Bill Bunn; center, Tony Billotti; quarter, Joe Ferem; halfs, Gonzalo Morales and Bud Townsend; full, Ed Russell.

Third team: Ends, Jack Cunha and Tommy Moran; tackles, Bill Zambresky and Dave Ward; guards, Jerry Castagnetto and Claude Menkee; center, Dick Harkins; quarter, Laurin Declusin; halfs, Jack Germaine and Tom Scully; full, Jack Cobie.

Freshman Nine Bats At Heavy .304 Clip To Outhit Varsity Squad

Captain Howerten Leads Yearlings With .485 Average; Fitzgerald, Goettchius Next

Hitting .304 as a unit, considerably higher than their varsity brothers, the Saint Mary's freshmen baseball team boasts of six regular players hitting over the .300 mark, and nine regulars above .278.

Pacing the frosh is Captain Bill Howerten, who is belting the horsehide at an impressive .485 clip, and he is followed by Co-Captain Ed Fitzgerald and Maurice Goetchius, who are hitting an even .400. Howerten leads the nine in hits with sixteen, while Fitzgerald has crossed the plate fifteen times to hold an edge in scoring. Tom Scully has been the only player to connect for a home run.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country! Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.

2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seamen.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training . . . a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.

Frosh Plan Banquet As Last Event

The active social year of the Freshman class will draw to a close on the evening of April 23, when a banquet will be held at Bellini's Restaurant in Oakland.

A committee composed of Jack Germaine, Max Ullom, Joseph Valente, and Stanley Gilliam, who is acting as chairman, selected the site after investigating various east bay dining establishments, and have since been contacting the members of the class concerning their willingness to support the venture. According to a statement by Gilliam, "The success of the banquet is apparently assured, since more than ninety of the hundred members of the class have already signified their intention of attending the affair." Several members of the faculty will also attend as guests of the freshmen.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Freshman prexy Joseph Picchi has announced that a photographer will be on the campus some day within the next two weeks to take a group picture of the members of the class. The price has been set at fifty cents, the majority of the class having expressed willingness to purchase the photographs.

As yet, no definite date has been set for the class election, which will take place sometime before the close of school.

Postmaster Gets Gift

An aged U. S. Postal Guide, published in 1878, was received as a gift recently by Brother Josephus, Saint Mary's College Postmaster, from Mr. Al Beidenweg, Superintendent of the Division of Motor Vehicle Service of the Post Office Department.

LARGE BOOK

Containing more than 400 pages of postal information, the book gives an insight into early California postal history, and presents numerous advertisements and cuts no longer allowed in the Guides.

Honorable David M. Key was Postmaster General at the time and California had only forty-three first, second and third class post offices while at the present time more than 700 come under those classifications.

ITEM OF INTEREST

According to Brother Josephus an item of interest to those living in San Francisco is the fact that it was rated as a first class office with the postmaster drawing $4000 per year, while the village of Los Angeles was then content with a second class standing and the local politicians were still angling to obtain the $2400 bait given its postmaster.

At present the southern city rates as one of the largest and most modern offices in the country with Mrs. Mary Briggs as postmaster, while San Francisco with Hon. William H. McCarthy, Chief, and Hon. John Lane, assistant postmaster, is one of the four great mailing centers for our naval and military men abroad.

ALUMNI NOTES + +

DIRECTORS MEET

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Saint Mary's Alumni Association was held Tuesday evening at the home of J. Philip Murphy, in Piedmont.

The chief business of the evening was the discussion of final plans for Homecoming Day, which is to be held this Sunday at the College.

Those present were Chaplain Edward Moss, Moderator Brother Henry, President Ray Arata, and directors J. Martin, Louis Conlan, Lou Figeac, John Burke, Elton Lawless, Wesley Davis, Willard Gates, George DeLew, Jack Bannister, Norman Strader, Garry Vivaldi, Spence Dixon, James McNamara, John Brophy, Gene Riordan, Al Paoli, Leo Cunningham, Ed McSweeney, Willard Murray, Phil Murphy, Jack Guptil, Justin Mahoney, and Jack Henning.

SAN FRANCISCO ALUMNI UNIT

The San Francisco Unit of the Alumni Association wishes to invite all members of the Unit, and all members of the general Alumni Association, to their Monday noon luncheons held at the Fraternity Club, 2nd floor, the Palace Hotel.

Starting two years ago, these luncheons have been very well attended. They are purely informal, no speeches, and agreeably economical. Remember—everyone is welcome!

ALUMNI HERE AND THERE

John Williams, '39, is now the Librarian at Treasure Island.... Mike Perrie, former Gael footballer, now stationed at Treasure Island, will soon leave to join Gene Tunney's Physical Education program at Norfolk, Va.... Charley Heinbockel, '34, another gridder, and former athletic coach at Maxwell, will marry Kay McCarthy of San Francisco on May 30th. Heinbockel is now Chief Petty Officer with the Naval Intelligence Unit of the Twelfth Naval District.... Andy Johnson was host to the Saint Mary's basketball team at dinner at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, Monday, April 6. Later in the evening he took the team to see the Chalky Wright-Verne Bybee fight.... Charles Scheflin, Alumni Director, and Galileo High School coach in San Francisco, left Tuesday afternoon for Annapolis for his one month's training course in physical instruction. He expects to return to Saint Mary's to help train the Navy fliers.... Henry Aronson, '37, has been named Junior Physical Education Director at Mather Field, Sacramento.

RAMBLINGS

Al Nichelini, '35, former speedy Gael half, was named Vice Principal of Orland Union high school.... Tom Nolan, '35, is with the U. S. Army Engineers in the Camouflage Unit, San Francisco.... Clarence "Kelly" Kellogg, '36, has won 11 out of 15 possible championships as physical education director at Regis high school, in Denver, Colorado.... Tom Foudy, '35, now in the U. S. Naval Reserve as Yeoman, 3rd class, is stationed at Treasure Island for the present.... George McSweeney, '39, Storekeeper 2nd class, U.S.N.R., was at Pearl Harbor on fateful December 7, and when last heard from was in Australia. Jackie Sims, his roommate, arrived at Treasure Island on a Friday, and shipped out the following Monday.... Jim Kane, '34, is now at Norfolk, Va., in Gene Tunney's Physical Education set-up.... Jack Crampton, '33, Al Quittman, '39, and Joe Cone, '39, are stationed at Treasure Island.

Educational Hour Set

One important phase of the annual Homecoming Day next Sunday will be the Educational Hour to take place that morning. Mr. Leo Cunningham, Attorney at Law, of San Francisco has again been assigned chairman of the event.

The general subject is "The Contributions of Industry, Business, the Legal Profession, and Labor to the War Effort." Industry's contribution from the viewpoint of the shipbuilder will be presented by Mr. Jack L. Wolff, Director of Personal Training at the Richmond Shipyards. Mr. Frank P. Foisie, President of the Waterfront Employers Association of San Francisco has been requested to speak on the contributions of business from the employers' point of view. The third speech will be "Contributions from the Bench and Bar" by the Honorable C. J. Goodell, Judge of the Superior Court of San Francisco. The final address which treats of "Labor's Contribution to the War Effort" will be given by John A. O'Connell, Secretary of the San Francisco Labor Council.

According to Mr. Cunningham, it is expected that each speaker will take approximately 20 minutes for the presentation of his views, 5-7 minutes being allotted for general discussion of the questions.

Alumni To Gather Here This Sunday

quad in front of the chapel, with William G. Fischer, '32, chairman, in charge of the event.

KEITH GALLERY VISIT

A visit to an art gallery may seem somewhat strange on an alumni homecoming program, but not for Saint Mary's, for alumni, particularly at the present time, are very much interested in the work of Brother Cornelius and his Keith associates, and also because of the coming publication of Brother Cornelius' book, "Keith, Old Master of California." The visit to the Keith Art Gallery is scheduled for 3:00 o'clock with John Mullany '29 as chairman in charge of the visit and of the program in conjunction with the visit. Brother Cornelius will be the principal speaker on the program.

At 3:45, there will be Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Chapel with the Rev. Edmund Moss, '32, chaplain of the alumni association, officiating.

HORAN TO SPEAK

Speakers at the Homecoming Day dinner will be Thomas J. Horan, '13, of Vallejo, former city attorney of that city and long active in civic, fraternal and American Legion affairs; and Brother Austin. Timothy J. Canty, '23, general chairman of the Homecoming Day committee, will preside as toastmaster.

With the lowering of the flag at 6:00 under the direction of John J. Burke, '09, the 1942 version of Homecoming Day will have passed in review.

By DAN McNAMARA

PAUL REGINATO

Certainly the first Saint Mary's man to be called to active duty in the Marine, candidates for officer class, and we hope the first Saint Mary's man to be commissioned, is Paul Reginato. Popular Paul should make a good leader for the wild and wooly Marines because for at least two years he has lead the hot-headed Italians of the Dante Club, the local spaghetti-eaters' club, and sole refuge for ineligibles of the Eire Oge.

AH SUCCESS!

Reginato is a good solid specimen of humanity, not particularly hard on the esthic sense. Inordinately good natured his dark eyes reflect a truly strong man. Quite naturally his pals will tell you that Paul slays 'em by just looking at them. No little part of his success with the opposite sex has been attributed to Paul's yellow flashwagon, a lowdown, cut-down, whizbang convertible whose sole claim on existence (besides courtin') is to move Reginato between Dunsmuir and Moraga.

Dunsmuir is famous for two reasons. In the order of importance Reginato comes first and Shasta Water comes second. Ordinarily something else comes before shasta water and when it does, it is closely followed by Reginato.

KNIGHT

After much effort and a few breaks, which gave him a chance to show his mettle, Reginato took over an end position on the varsity last year. He was injured in the Cal game last year and it ruined his season on the Gael varsity.

The past president of the Dante club is now a big fish with the local swim of the Knights of Columbus and is known to fellow K.C.'s as Grand Knight. Besides the already mentioned Dante Club, Paul is an active member of the Block S.M. society and the Sanctuary society.

Reginato is really a good student and a hard worker. The organizations with which he has been associated have been active, especially under his direction. Academically Reginato has been studying a split History and Spanish major with minors in Philosophy and education. Paul probably will get his diploma early because he expects to be called by the Marines before the 27th of this month.

TEACHER

Before the war Reginato had planned to do a year's graduate work at Cal and get his teacher's certificate. Now he's going to Quantico, Virginia, and try to be a good Marine. Though Paul has seen "To the Shores of Tripoli" and accordingly appreciated the picture he has no illusions about those who ask only that they be the first to fight.

Keith Kimball To Play For Defense Dance

Informal Affair Will Be Sponsored In SM Gym Tomorrow Night

Keith Kimball and his bombardiers will entertain the watchers of the skies tomorrow night in the college gymnasium, under the sponsorship of the Moraga Defense Council.

The dance is expected to attract a capacity crowd from the Moraga Valley, Lafayette, Orinda area, which the Defense Council serves, as well as many Saint Mary's college students.

Kimball has played for many bay area dances, and is particularly popular in the eastbay where he has won himself a reputation for his ability to please dance crowds with a sweet and swing mixture of musical notes.

In charge of coffee and sandwiches and the Saint Mary's angle of the dance is Ray Curry, prominent Gael athlete.

"The dance will be a good one, you can be sure of that," Curry stated to a Collegian reporter yesterday. "We would like to see a large representation of Saint Mary's students at the dance, and I'm sure they will attend," he also said.

The proceeds of the dance will be used for the defense needs of the Moraga defense council. This includes the purchase of supplies and the upkeep of the lookout house where the civilian sentinels keep watch.

"The price of admission is nominal," Curry said. "Tickets may be purchased at the door for fifty-five cents, tax included."

The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and is expected to last until 12. Mrs. Carr of Moraga is chairlady of the dance.

Rationing of firewood and charcoal for use in gas-propelled automobiles has recently been made effective in Italy, the Department of Commerce reports.
